

Process for Eligible NIH Employees to Request Access to Genomic Data in dbGaP

In order to obtain access to genomic data in dbGaP that is available through controlled access, eligible NIH Institute and Center (IC) intramural scientists and IC extramural program scientific staff must first obtain the approval of their IC.

Eligible Intramural Scientists. Eligible intramural scientists must be tenured or in a tenure-track position; senior investigators, senior scientists or senior clinicians; or adjunct investigators. Eligible intramural scientists may initiate a request for access to genomic data by completing the attached form and obtaining approvals from:

- 1) your supervisor;
- 2) your IC's Scientific Director; and
- 3) either your IC Director or your IC's designated Signing Official.

Eligible Extramural Scientific Staff. IC extramural scientific staff are eligible if they: have administrative responsibility for the data; have substantial research involvement in the award that generated the data; or need access to carry out research unrelated to their portfolio management responsibilities. Eligible extramural scientific staff may initiate a request for access to genomic data by completing the attached form and obtaining approvals from:

- 1) your supervisor;
- 2) your Division Director; and
- 3) either your IC Director or your IC's designated Signing Official.

After completing the form and obtaining the necessary signatures, please scan the form and email the pdf document to the attention of the Genomic Data Sharing Policy Staff at GWAS@nih.gov. You may also fax the form to 301-496-9839.

Once your completed form is submitted, you will be registered in the dbGaP system as an approved user and will be notified by email when you can proceed to submit data access requests to dbGaP via its authorized access system at <https://dbgap.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/aa/wga.cgi?page=login>.
